

Keynote Speaker
Diane P. Ferraro
(Save the Storks)

Diane Ferraro has been a key member of the executive and leadership teams at Save the Storks, a national life-affirming non-profit ministry headquartered in Colorado Springs, since she joined to lead marketing efforts in 2018. Prior to her role at the organization, Diane served in various strategic roles at large corporations, including overseeing marketing and communication efforts at a national luxury jewelry retailer based in Southern California. During her tenure there as head of marketing, the organization grew from $60 million to $120 million in annual revenue.

Upon taking the CEO position at Save the Storks in January 2021, Diane has expanded programs to serve women's health clinics and churches. Under her leadership, the organization has grown its mobile medical program to over 100 units in 34 states. Save the Storks is also now collaborating with other life-affirming organizations that serve moms, dads and families across the United States, bringing unity to the movement. The work of Save the Storks is especially close to her heart, as she was adopted as a baby. Her birth mother's decision to choose life is something she is eternally grateful for and knows that God placed her in this role to empower other women facing unplanned pregnancies to have a story of hope and empowerment. Diane was unable to have biological children, but has been blessed to have been a foster and adoptive mom, a step-mom, and now is "grandy" to two precious grandchildren.
